THAT FIFTH MEMBER

Up to the present we haven't heard of the appointment of the fifth member of the board of town trustees. We are told, though, that the south gates of Burlingame have been moved.

A PURCHASING AGENT

San Francisco has appointed a purchasing agent at $10,000 a year. That's a pretty husky sized salary and as for ourselves we'd like to have the job. We feel that we could draw that salary gracefully. But, speaking of salaries and purchasing agents, brings our thoughts to San Mateo county. The San Mateo county purchasing agent gets the smallest salary of any like official in the state. For several years he has demonstrated that he can save money for San Mateo county in the purchasing of supplies. Yet there has never been a raise to show that his work is appreciated. It would seem to us that it's about time for the board of supervisors to make the salary worth while. We have a good man in the job. He should be paid a good salary.

THE CHRONICLE'S NEW HOME

The San Francisco Chronicle is to have a new home at Fifth and Mission streets. Pictures and plans of the proposed structure were shown in a special edition of the paper last Monday. It would seem that there is not a feature missing which would take from the completeness of the plans.

The San Francisco Chronicle is worthy of its new home. For years it has been building up a reputation for its wholesome portrayal of facts. It is in no way sensational, but is a good home paper. Its owner, Mr. M. H. De Young, has been a good man for San Francisco. He has consistently boosted for his city. He has pretty largely been on the right side in every issue. We hope that he will be able to enjoy many years in the new home of his paper.

SAN FRANCISCO AND HIGHWAYS

Last week District Attorney Swart spoke before a civic organization of San Francisco upon the construction of an east side highway. Everyone at the meeting knew the conditions concerning traffic down the peninsula. A San Francisco supervisor objected to certain suggestions by Mr. Swart relative to the proportional costs to be borne by San Francisco and San Mateo counties and said that San Francisco would be paying $100 for every $1 paid by San Mateo county.

As we look at the matter San Francisco should pay $500 to our $1. If the highway is constructed, it will be built for San Francisco. So far as the motorists of San Mateo county are concerned, they have all of the highways that are needed. It's the San Franciscans who crowd our roads. For every San Mateo county machine on the highways on Sunday it's a safe bet that there are from 200 to 300 San Francisco autos. That being the case, who should pay for the highway? Also a tax on San Francisco sufficient to give its people an outlet into the country would be very small. If San Mateo county had to bear the tax, the rate would be so high that it would be prohibitive. For a number of years San Mateo county paid the interest on a huge sum of money expended by the state upon the state highway in this county. We paid this interest as long as we had to so that San Francisco might come down and visit us. Now that San Francisco has more autos than she knows what to do with she should provide roads for their use. If San Francisco wants an east side highway, let San Francisco build it.

A MARTYRED PRESIDENT

Fifty-eight years ago today a tragedy occurred in city of Washington which sent a tremor of horror throughout the country. Word was received that the president had been shot—Lincoln, the idol of the north, had met his death at the hands of an assassin. At the pinnacle of his glory, with the north still tingling with the flush of victory, and with the rebellious south just beginning to awaken to the sterling qualities of the leader of the nation, the news of Lincoln's untimely end came as a shock to the entire country, a shock that can be scarcely appreciated at this far distant time. There appeared general mourning throughout the country and practically all the papers of that time appeared with black borders and heavy black column rules. Lincoln's unfortunate death will always be one of the dark tragedies of our history, but Lincoln himself is and always will be one of our country's heroes, an outstanding specimen of that type of Americanism which fought against heavy odds and won, but did not lose the touch of tenderness in the battle.

PROSPERITY IS HERE

Prosperity is a thing that everyone can talk about but which many do not recognize when it really arrives. We have become so used to the phrase that "prosperity is just around the corner" that it has become a settled conclusion that it always will be "around the corner. Prosperity is HERE, and it is here NOW. This is especially true for our own state and our own town. There never was a time in the history of Redwood City when the future appeared so bright, when every day carried more hopes to fulfillment and opened new avenues of encouragement and advancement. There is a general feeling in the air that it is good to be alive in Redwood City.

CURRAN ANSWERS SUMMONS
Another pioneer of the county passed on to his final rest last Saturday night when Patrick Curran, an aged rancher, succumbed to a fatal illness at the Monroe ranch, where he had been working for the last four years. Pat Curran, as he was familiarly known throughout the county, was a brother of John Curran and the late James Curran of this city. He was a bachelor and except for his one brother leaves no near relatives. Curran was a native of Canada and 71 years of age. He came to this part of the country about 55 years ago, since which time he has been engaged in ranching. The funeral was held last Tuesday from the parlors of Layne & Tinney, thence to Mt. Carmel Catholic church. Interment was in Holy Cross cemetery at Menlo Park.

President Lincoln Shot!

58 Years Ago Today

The Gazette in 1865 recorded this memorable event as follows

WASHINGTON, April 14, 1865.—President Lincoln and wife, with some other friends, visited Ford's Theatre for the purpose of witnessing the "Country Cousin." . . . The theatre was densely crowded and everyone seemed delighted with the scene before them. During the third act, and while there was a temporary pause for one of the actors to enter, a sharp report of a pistol was heard, which merely attracted attention but suggested nothing serious until a man rushed to the front of the president's box waving a long dagger in his hand and exclaiming, "Sic semper tyranni." and immediately leaped from the box which was in the second tier to the stage beneath, ran across to the opposite side of the stage, making his escape amid the bewilderment of the audience, from the rear of the theatre, and mounting a horse, fled."

For 63 years the Gazette has carried the news to the homes of San Mateo County.

Cleaning Without Odor

by the

F. Thomas Process

Our many years of experience has taught us that it is impossible to do perfect cleaning with cheap, inferior methods. That is why we found it necessary to invest nearly $500,000 in the equipment of a plant and the establishment of an expert organization to do the quality of work demanded by our customers.

With the "F. Thomas Process" we not only remove every particle of dust but we return your garments without that usual disagreeable smell of gasoline. Every drop of gasoline we use in cleaning is redistilled and very highly refined.

Raw gasoline—the kind that you buy for your automobile—is full of heavy oils and unfit for cleaning fabrics. It is little better than ordinary distillate and leaves a sickening "gasoline" smell in your clothes.

To Feature Native Indian Dances

Chief Suly-y-Carm, boss of the Pano, or Digger Indians of the Anderson valley, near Ukiah, is a stickler for details. This has dawned on the officials in charge of the big Pan-Indian pageant of Progress and Fair to be held at San Carlos May 26 to June 2.

Suly and his tribe have been listed as one of the interesting features of the exposition. They are going to set up a model Indian village such as existed before the white man introduced all the follies of civilization. What worried the committee in charge at first was whether they could get the chief to come down. Now the question seems to be how to keep the chief in the neighborhood of Ukiah until it is time for him to come. All of which means that Chief Suly-y-Carm is anxious to have everything right that he wants to keep running down the hill to look over the ground. It would be great business for the fair, but put a crimp in the fair funds if Suly was accommodated with a return ticket every time he felt the urge to take a preparatory lap around. Needless to say the tribe up the state has absorbed their chief's enthusiasm. All they are doing now is getting ready for the big event.

There will be 14 picked Indians, selected for their ability in the native dances and other weird ceremonies of the aborigines. Every detail of the aborigines as well as the dress, dances, feasts and other activities of the tribe will adhere strictly to the traditions and customs handed down from generation to generation. There are few tribes in the United States who have so faithfully preserved the methods of their ancestors as have the Digger Indians of California.

Brilliant Speaker Discusses Problems of the English Speaking Peoples

"Working Together for Billions" is Logical and Fearless Presentation of Some Vital Truths.

Norman Allan Imrie's rise to a place of real prominence in the platform world is almost as interesting a story as his climb to a captaincy with the Canadian forces during the late war. Two years ago he was practically unknown in the states as a speaker. Since then he has taken in hundreds of towns and cities in the West, has toured New Zealand, has spoken in practically every province of Western Canada—and even in some far-off Alaskan cities. Today he is eagerly sought as an after-dinner speaker in both Chicago and New York. He needs no press agent, no recommendations. One talk is alone sufficient for invitations galore. Mr. Imrie's lecture, "Working Together for Billions" is a stirring, forceful, thought-provoking analysis and presentation of the Anglo-American problems that are burning issues at the present moment.

ST. MARY'S GUILD
St. Mary's Guild of the Episcopal church was delightfully entertained last Thursday by Mrs. K. S. Murray at her home on Woodside road. The affair took the form of a farewell to Mrs. A. L. Waterman, retiring president of the guild, who leaves soon with her family to join Mr. Waterman in Chicago. April showers did not prevent a full membership, excepting two, but the gathering was unbroken about the pretty decorated tables. After lunch a visit was made to the greenhouses. Especially interesting were the colored roses, developed by Mr. Murray, and the exquisite new rose he has propagated, the "Mrs. Murray," a creamy pearly rose with a pink heart, of perfect form and delicious fragrance.

BAPTIST CHURCH
The Bible school meets at 10 a.m. Preaching at 11:45 a.m. There will be a vesper service. The first half hour will be given to a new line of Bible study, led by Juanita Parker. This will be followed by a short address by the pastor, "Come with us and we will do thee good."

Among those who were awarded degrees at Stanford this week were Norman McGee of Woodside, who received a degree of bachelor of arts in engineering, and Miss Ruth Frances Merrill of Menlo Park, who was given a like degree in English journalism.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH
Clayton L. Peck, pastor.
Sunday morning at 9:45 is the Sunday school hour. The faithful work of the teachers is being rewarded by the increasing number in attendance each Sabbath.

At 11 a.m. the pastor will preach on the subject "God's Kind of a Church." At 7:30 p.m. the pastor will give his version of "The Kind of Men God Requires in Redwood City." The Epworth League service at 6:30 p.m. Leader, Miss Sylvia Underhill.

Good music at both services by the local church choir.

Everybody welcome to all services and invited to tarry for the social half hour at the conclusion of the evening service.

Under ordinary air pressure a gallon of water changed into steam becomes 1,696 gallons. This wonderful expansion makes possible the power of the steam engine.

NEWS OF MENLO PARK

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Linforth and their pretty daughter have opened their home here after spending the winter at the Palace Hotel in San Francisco. Miss Linforth won the blue ribbon in the horse races at Los Angeles last week. She is among the noted equestriennes in California. Her stable is the best in this county.

Paul Livingston, the San Francisco broker, has leased the attractive George Brooks place in Menlo Oaks for the summer and will move down on May 1. Mr. Brooks will travel during the summer months in the east and may go to Europe.

Mrs. Charles Coxin and her daughter Meta will move into their pretty new bungalow on Oak Grove avenue early next week.

One of the principal scenes of the "Fog," a motion picture being filmed at the Pacific Studios at San Mateo, was taken here last Saturday. "The Fog" is a story of the peninsula written some years ago by Gertrude Atherton, the famous novelist. The authoress was born in San Jose and as a young girl married the late George Atherton, coming to live with her husband here in the late seventies. She knew the early history of the peninsula and its residents and from this knowledge wrote "The Fog." The book gives a description of the Menlo Park hotel where the scene was taken.

In addition to the "locations" which the town furnished, a number of Menlo Park's pioneer residents and notables appeared in the picture. Some of these were "Doc" White Wolf, an Indian doctor who has lived here for nearly 20 years, and who was once a miner in Nevada; Mrs. D. McKnight, proprietor of a dairy which dates back 40 years; her son, Erwin McKnight, driver of the old one-horse milk wagon; Gustav and Joe Hara and a two-horse team; "Grandpa" Ellis, whose whiskers are said to be knee length; "Doc" Stewart, poolroom proprietor; W. A. Doyle, real estate agent; Jack Doyle's sons, Bernard and Robbie Doyle, and their young goats. Miss Mildred Harris is featured in "The Fog," supported by Cullen Landis and a cast which includes Ralph Lewis, Louise Dresser, Paul Powell and Peggy Prevost.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Taylor (Clara Albee), at the Palo Alto Hospital, April 8, 1923, a son.

Among the peninsula's show places which is at its best right now is the tulip farm at Menlo Park conducted by Mrs. Mary Pos. An acre of wonderful, blooming bulb plants, resembling a strip of old Holland in tulip time, awaits the visitor. Tulips of mammoth size, gorgeous colorings and rare combinations are now at their best. Exactly 165 varieties of Dutch tulips, all from imported bulbs, are grown there and in that outdoor "sample room" can be viewed by prospective planters. Mrs. Pos, who is an experienced tulip grower from Holland, has been at the Menlo Park farm for a year past. Previously she conducted a tulip farm in Marin county. She has been in America for five years. "While Holland is the world's ideal spot for tulip culture," she said, "certain parts of California approximate Holland's advantages for bulb plants and the peninsula is one of them." Mrs. Pos has supplied imported tulip bulbs for Golden Gate Park and for many of the estates of millionaires in Marin county and on the peninsula. The tulips now in bloom at the community house gardens are donations from her farm. Five centuries of tulip culture in Holland have resulted in some wonderful results. There are 450 varieties of the plants produced there and the exports from Holland's bulb trade reach astonishing figures. According to the 1920 records England imported $2,000,000 worth of Holland bulbs and the United States $2,670,000. The tulip farm at Menlo Park is on Glenwood avenue near Middlefield road, where visitors are welcome.

Charles L. Patton, who died in San Francisco Wednesday, was a resident of Menlo Park up until a few years ago, when he sold his property and removed to the city. Mr. Patton owned the old Holt residence, which is now the holding of E. P. Delger. Mr. Patton's boyhood was spent in San Francisco. He was prominent in politics and at one time was a candidate for mayor of his adopted city. Mr. Patton was an able lawyer, having figured in many of the big law suits in San Francisco during the past 25 years.

Charles Holbrook gave a reception last week for Mrs. John Merrill in honor of her birthday. The affair was held at the Holbrook home on Van Ness avenue. Around 200 guests called during the afternoon. They were received by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Merrill, Mr. and Mrs. Silas Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bates, Mr. and Mrs. William Devereux, Colonel and Mrs. Andrew S. Rowan, Miss Frances Merrill, Samuel Knight, Harry Holbrook, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Merrill.

Springtime is here and all nature appears at its best. The birds are singing, the flowers blooming and the warm sunshine invites the city dweller to the country. Hence the exodus from San Francisco this week by the summer residents to their Menlo Park homes. Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Lowrey, Mr. and Mrs. August Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Hamilton all have opened their homes. Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. McCormick will take possession of their pretty home at Atherton next Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester F. Slinger, proprietors of the Fremont Garage, returned on Wednesday from a motor trip to Southern California. They visited Los Angeles, San Diego and went over the border to Tijuana and witnessed several horse races. Mr. Slinger says the little Mexican town is the liveliest place on the continent.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Donohoe and their daughters, Katherine, Christine, Mary and Barbara, have moved from San Francisco to their country place at Menlo Park. They spent the winter in Mrs. Gallon Beaton's house on Franklin street.

Menlo parlors of Native Sons and Native Daughters are going to give a card party Wednesday evening in the Native Sons' Hall. There will be valuable prizes given to those who are fortunate and a door prize will also be given. The committee in charge is expecting a large crowd, and to those who are familiar with Natives' card parties to say that there would be a good time for all would be superfluous.

WIN A COLLEGE EDUCATION

The essay contest for the Firestone University scholarship will close May 1. The contest is open to all high school pupils in the United States. The prize is a 4-year course in any American university the winner may choose. It is worth at least $4,000.

GET GOLD BASKETBALLS

A large assembly was held at Sequoia Union High School last Monday when ten of the basketball players who won the championship of Northern California were presented with gold basketballs. The emblems, which were suitably inscribed, were distributed by Duffy Seay, athletic director of Stanford University, who made a very interesting presentation speech. Talks were also made by members of the faculty. The proud winners of the gold basketballs are Theodore Thompson,

Stanley Mitchell, Ernest Locatelli, Noble Cloud, Roy Allain, Frank Towne, John Ryan, James Johnson, Gerald Robertson, John Weeden and Jack Kellogg.

PAN AMERICAN CONFERENCE

The fifth Pan-American conference opened in Santiago, the capital of Chile, March 25. Nearly all the 12 North, Central and South American republics are represented. The United States delegation is headed by Henry P. Fletcher, our ambassador to Belgium. Mr. Fletcher was United States ambassador to Chile in 1914 and 1915.

Monday evening one of the largest crowds ever assembled at a trustee meeting was on hand to see the seating of the new board of city trustees of San Mateo. City Attorney Charles N. Kirkbride swore in the new members, Frederick J. Smith, William J. Eva, John J. Sharon, John R. Fairbanks and John E. Casey. Frederick J. Smith was chosen the new mayor.

In a speech showing earnestness the new mayor said that the policy of the board would be economy, efficiency, elimination of politics and steadfast adherence to policies that make for the expansion of San Mateo commercially and industrially.

Henry Strum of Colma woke up in the Central Emergency Hospital, San Francisco, Tuesday, and discovered that a "generous friend" who had presented him with a bottle of alleged rare Scotch whiskey had in reality given him a bottle of wood alcohol and later robbed him of $45. Strum met the "friend" at Seventh and Harrison streets, San Francisco, he told the police. Following a drink from the proffered bottle he collapsed and remembered no more until he woke in the hospital.

Two South San Francisco boys of tender years decided they wanted a horse of their own, so they staged a real old fashioned horse stealing last Sunday. They broke open the locked stable door of Peter Lind, proprietor of Lind's market, and took one of the steeds which Mr. Lind uses to deliver meat to his customers. A short time afterward Officer Louis Belloni found the boys riding the horse and took them into custody. They will be given a hearing in the juvenile court.

Elia W. Collopy and James and John Millet filed suits in the superior court Tuesday to prevent the state highway commission, from proceeding with the work of building the safety wall between the state highway and the tracks of the Market Street Railway from Colma to Holy Cross cemetery. They ask a temporary restraining order against the highway commission until such time as the matter can be determined by the court. The complaints allege that the plaintiffs are the owners of property across the railway tracks from the highway and that ingress and egress to their property will be prevented by the wall, they having an easement over the property.

TO HIKE IN MARIN COUNTY

The El Monte Club is preparing a hike to Marin county tomorrow. A route has been outlined and several novel features are being planned for the entertainment of the members and their friends. Two names were added to the club roll at the last meeting, these being Jack Poole and Stephen Kreiss. The club is being swamped with applications for membership, but will not be able to consider them until a larger meeting hall can be secured. Friends and acquaintances are invited to attend the hike.

In 1884 the presidential election was so close that it depended on the electoral vote of New York. In New York the popular vote for electors was closer still. A recount was necessary. The Democratic (Cleveland) electors received 563,154 votes; the Republican (Blaine) electors, 562,005. Thus New York was Democratic by 1,149. If 575 persons who voted for the Cleveland electors had marked their ballots for the Republican electors, Blaine would have been chosen president instead of Cleveland.
